

The impact of WW1 on one local community

Answering the Call

AUCHENCAIRN AND THE FIRST WORLD WAR

Hardback book, illustrated with over 100 photos and maps

'I thoroughly recommend this book as an extremely good read and a brilliant and valuable piece of local history', Ian Devlin, Kirkcudbright (author of Albanich: A History of the Galloway Rifle Volunteers and We Will Remember Them: Kirkcudbright's Sons 1914-1918)

'This is an exemplary local history book', Dr David Devereux, Museums Curator (Stewartry)

'A wonderful account and a treasured collection of ordinary folks' history', Anne Pattinson, Devon (grand-daughter of Edward Gellatly M.M., Headmaster, Auchencairn School, 1929-38)

Available at Auchencairn Post Office, and bookshops, stationers and museums in Castle Douglas, Dalbeattie and Kirkcudbright